House of Commons
Ottawa, Ontario

Dear Andrew;

Thank you for your great contribution to the changes in Canada's citizenship law that will result from bill C - 37.

Though a number of people can claim some credit, without your determination these changes would almost certainly not have been achieved.

In a sense you have worked at citizenship issues in a non-partisan way, challenging not only the current government but also that of your own party in earlier years.

Your courage and your willingness to sacrifice advances in your own career for the sake of basic rights reflect an inspiring integrity.

Even though much remains to be done, now is a time to acknowledge that much has been accomplished and that tens of thousands of people will be helped.

I will always remember this opportunity to work with you in a very valuable cause.

Sincerely yours

Bill Janzen, Ph D
